SKIMS AIR LIKE BIRD

Wilbur Wright is Now King of the Air and French Idol

Ohio Man Flew, Steadily For One Hour and a Half—Dayton to Honor Famous Sons.

Lemans, Sept. 22.—In the presence of the officials of the French Aero club, of Sarthe; the American Ambassador, Henry White; General Bazaine-Hayter, commander of the Fourth Army Corps; a large number of French and foreign officers and aeroplane experts, and a wildly cheering crowd numbering 10,000, Wilbur Wright, the American, yesterday afternoon accomplished a signal triumph, capturing the world's record from his brother, Orville Wright, with a marvelously impressive flight in his powerful machine of one hour, thirty-one minutes and fifty-one seconds, covering in that time an actual distance of 98 kilometers, or nearly 61 miles.

Owing to the recent accident at Ft. Myer, yesterday's trial for the Michelin cup for the greatest distance covered by an aeroplane in 1908, and the Aero club prize of $1,000 for the longest flight over an enclosed ground attracted intense interest.

Mr. Wright at first appeared nervous, and ill luck seemed to be pursuing him. The wind was too high in the morning to permit of a flight, and when it fell, at 4 p. m., Wright made three false starts, owing to the oblique direction of the breeze and trouble experienced with the cradle.

Finally, at 5:15, after the direction of the starting rail had been changed to point in the teeth of the breeze, which was then blowing gently at about four miles an hour, the aviator got away nicely, sailing majestically up the field.

After rounding the upper turn, Wright swept back to where the thousands were gathered, and began describing ellipses. Round and round he went, with the regularity of clockwork and the steadiness of a railroad train. The great crowd was at once delighted and amazed at the remarkable stability shown by the aeroplane. Wright at first manifested extraordinary prudence, flying so low that he seemed almost to skim the earth, but on the thirteenth round he rose to 60 feet. Spontaneous cheers greeted the picture, and these were redoubled as he successively surpassed his own record and then his brother's.

In the gathering darkness the spectacle became thrilling. The aeroplane could no longer be seen at the further end of the field. It appeared and disappeared in the gloom like a white phantom, but the sound of the ceaseless churn of the propellers told the multitude, which had now grown frantic, that Wright was still in the air. Matches were lighted to keep watch on the fleeting minutes, and night had fallen when, at the end of the thirty-third round, Wright shut off his motor and came lightly to the ground.

With a mad cheer the crowd broke through the lines and rushed forward, only being prevented from hoisting the American in triumph on their shoulders by charging cavalry.

Among the first to reach Mr. Wright's side was Henry White, the American Ambassador, who told the smiling aviator of the keen pleasure he felt on witnessing his victory. The Ambassador said that he knew he was expressing the sentiments of President Roosevelt and the entire American people in congratulating him. Other friends were equally enthusiastic. Subsequently Ambassador White said he believed the American people should present a testimonial to the Wright brothers.

"If Germany honors Zeppelin," he asked, "why should not America honor or the men who have opened a new page in the history of the world?" Mr. Wright said that he had descended only because of darkness. He still had sufficient essence in the tank to last an hour.

As the measurement, under the rules, is only taken from the flags, the official distance of the flight is given as 66.60 kilometers. For the Michaelis aero prize only the time before sunset counts, and therefore in his attempt to win this trophy Wright set a record of 53 minutes, covering 38.6 kilometers.

Mr. Wright took his achievement with his usual modesty, but he said that he was especially glad to have established a new world's record for Orville's sake. He denied the report (Continued on page 2, 3d col.)

Official Explains What Constitutes Bank Insolvency and Lays Stress Upon Same.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The National bank examiners, who were so severely scored yesterday by Comptroller of Currency Murray, assembled today for their second day's lesson on how to best detect bank irregularities. The comptroller today laid particular stress upon what constitutes hand insolvency. He declares that many examiners confused the "impairment of capital with insolvency. "A bank is not insolvent," said the comptroller, "until its entire capital surplus and undivided profits are absorbed by losses and its remaining assets are insufficient to cover its liabilities to depositors and other creditors, exclusive of the capital stock."

WORRIED

Are Judge Taft and Managers Over Developments

CONFERENCES ARE HELD

Finances in Alarming Condition and Causing Much Trouble

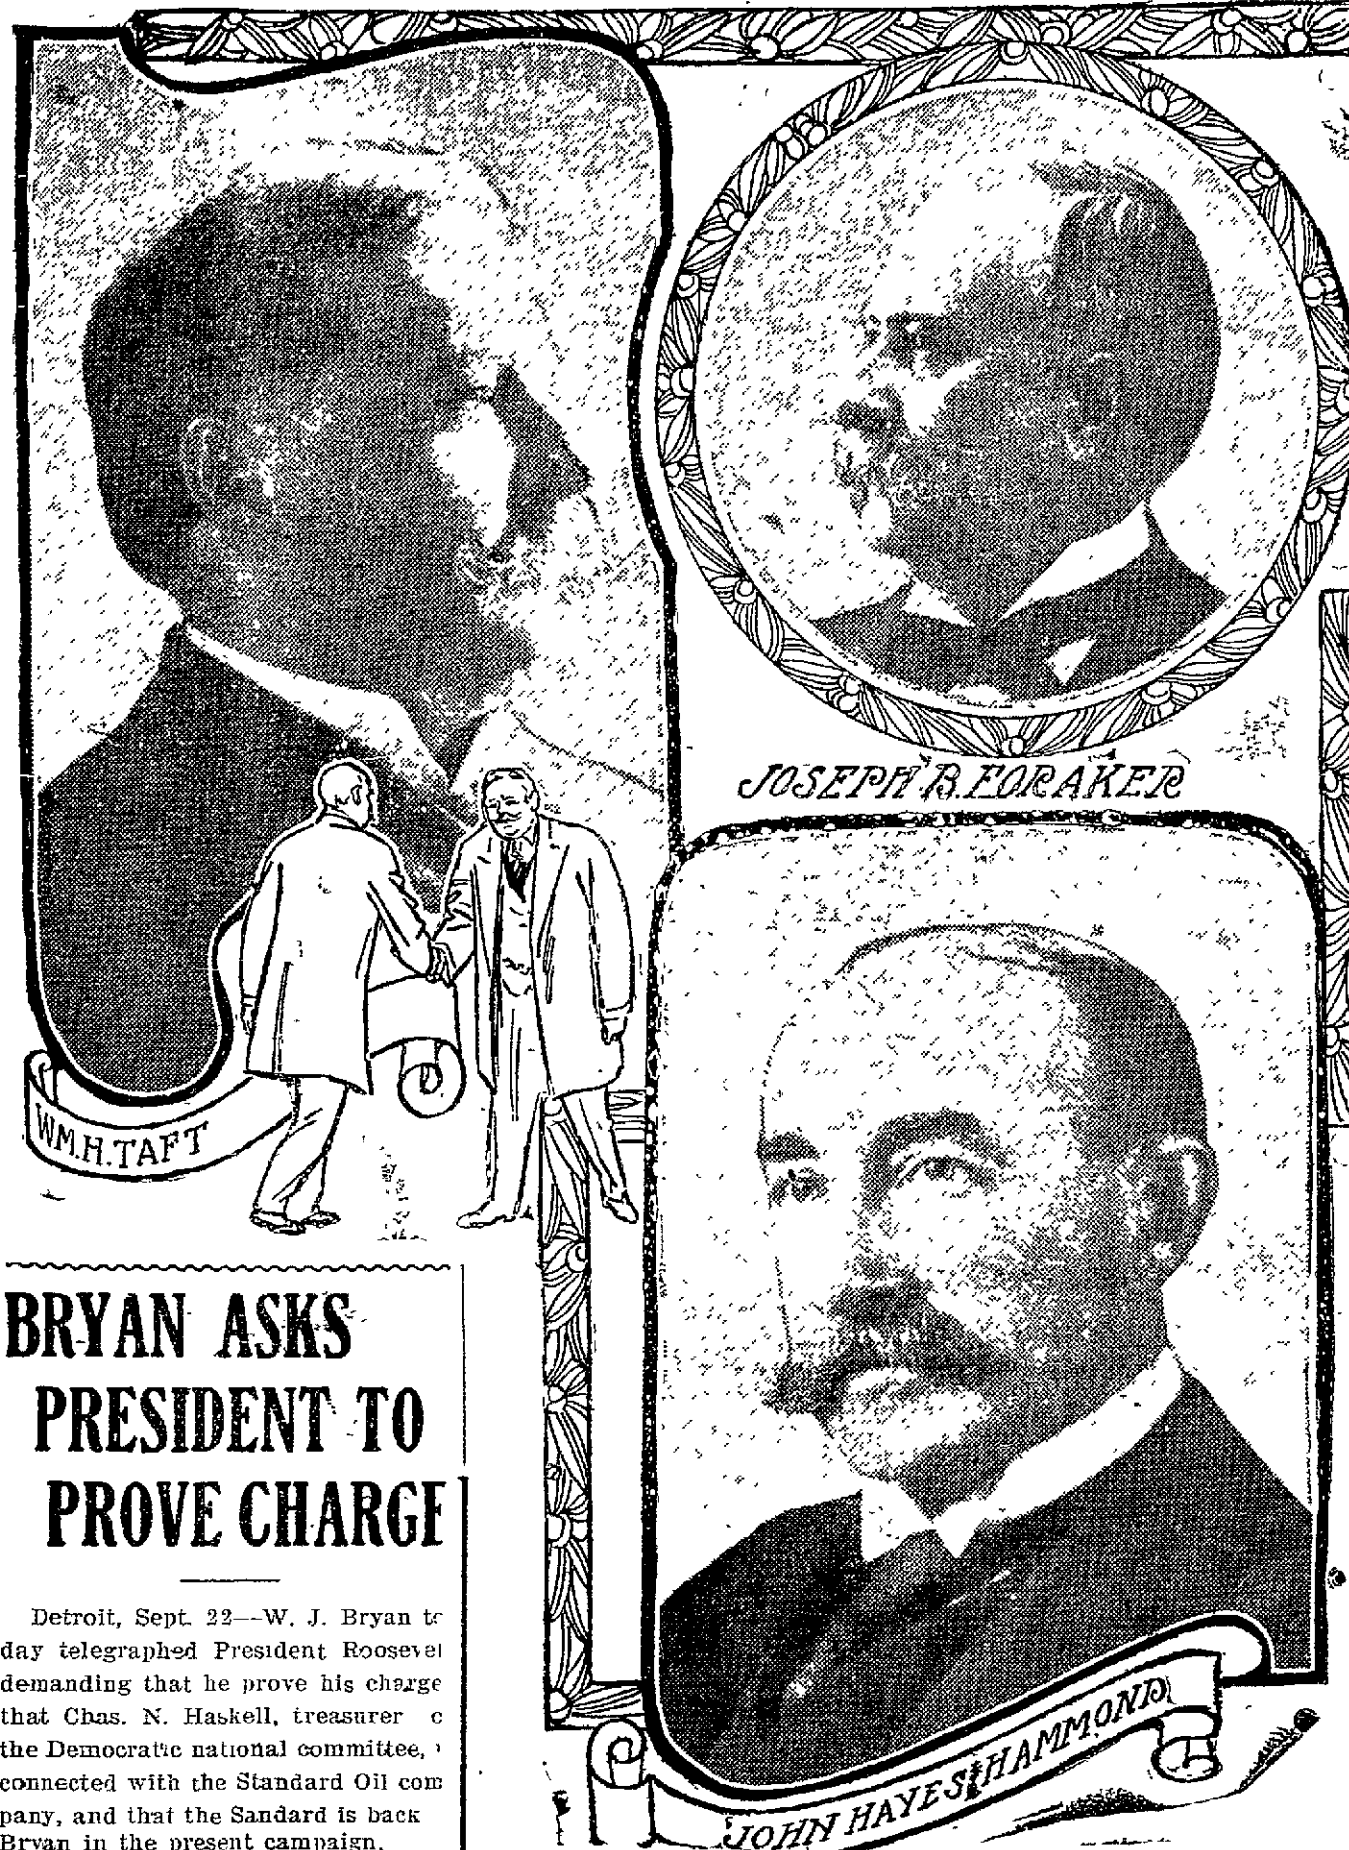

Senator Crane and Chairman Hitchcock Hurrying to New York to Seek Help.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—With the arrival in Chicago tomorrow of Judge Taft, the Republican managers in the west will throw open the throttle and hitch up an express train clip for the closing six weeks of the campaign.

Senator Crane and Chairman Hitchcock today plunged into a new series of conferences with bureau chiefs and advisers.

The chief source of activity now is in the finance committee. None of the Republican leaders today took pains to deny that the failure of the west to subscribe to the campaign fund has been so marked as have put the exchequer in an alarming condition. Crane today called Fred W. Upham, western treasurer of the national committee into conference and the two of them laid out plans to persuade people with cash to contribute to "come across." Tonight Crane and Hitchcock will go to New York where owners of superfluous lucre are also said to have locked their strong boxes with time lock dated November 5.

Detroit, Sept. 22.—W. J. Bryan today telegraphed President Roosevelt demanding that he prove his charge that Chas. N. Haskell, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, connected with the Standard Oil company, and that the Standard is back Bryan in the present campaign.

Bryan guarantees that Haskell will appear before any tribunal Roosevelt names and stand trial, and says Haskell will be dropped from the committee if investigation does not prove to the President's satisfaction that Haskell is innocent.

DANGER

Of the Wisconsin Forest Fires Not Yet Over—Cherches Praying For Rain.

Milwaukee, Sept. 22.—The forest fire situation in the vicinity of Rhineland, Wis., has become less menacing but the danger has not yet passed. The wind has so far favored Rhineland and the flames are gradually approaching the town of Gagehen, near Rhineland. August Krenke has been killed and two railroad men seriously burned while fighting the flames. Fires continue to rage fiercely in Rush, Sawyer and Price counties where many small hamlets are in the path of the flames. In every Catholic church in Wisconsin, prayers are being said today for rain.

Cincinnati, Sept. 22.—Judge William L. Taft and Senator Joseph Benson Foraker were to have spoken from the same platform in this city tonight but the Hearst exposure has changed all the plans. The meeting is the biennial of the National League of Republican clubs, of which John Hayes Hammond is president. Judge Taft after the meeting tonight will start on a tour of the west in an endeavor to check the great tidal wave which has set in against him throughout the western states.

Judge David Rockwell Will Remain on Ticket

ISSUES A STATEMENT

Comes to the Decision After Talk With Judge Harmon

Chairman Finley Says Democratic Candidate for Lieut. Governor is Making Personal Sacrifice.

Columbus, Sept. 22.—Buoyed up by the recent turn of the political wheel, of fortune in the Republican party, all transpiring within the past few days, which apparently betters conditions in the ranks of the opposition, Judge David L. Rockwell, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor last night decided to allow his name to remain on the ticket.

In doing this he withdrew the resignation made a short time ago to William Finley, chairman of the Democratic state executive committee and from now until the close of the campaign will work with all the vigor that he is possessed of for the success of Democracy in Ohio.

The decision was reached after a conference which lasted most of the day, winding up with a talk with National Committeeman Harvey Garber.

After the conference, closing with a long distance telephone talk with Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati, candidate for governor, Judge Rockwell issued a statement, in part as follows:

"The nomination to the office of lieutenant governor came to me at the hands of the Democratic state convention without my solicitation. As the campaign progressed I became more and more imbued with the idea that it was my duty to accept the nomination and make the fight. When the Democrats of Portage county met in convention they renominated me for the office of Probate judge against my will, over my protest and in the face of my declaration that I would decline. The convention disregarded my wishes and adjourned.

"Two weeks ago the Democrats of Portage county unanimously demanded that I decline the nomination for lieutenant governor and accept the renomination for Probate judge. I communicated these facts to Chairman Finley. In the intervening two weeks I have heard from friends in almost every section of the state, who insist that I remain on the ticket.

"This being the case I do not feel that I can afford to accept the responsibility which will withdrawal and consequent disarrangement of plans would impose on the party.

"Therefore, I yield to the personal request of Judge Harmon and to that of the state executive committee, which has cut out special work and made special assignments to duty for me, and, in full faith that my successor as Probate judge of Portage county will be a Democrat, have decided to remain on the ticket for lieutenant governor."

Commenting on the Rockwell statement Chairman Finley said:

"The Democrats of the state may not know that Judge Rockwell is making a real personal sacrifice in remaining on the state ticket. His resignation to a third term of four years as Probate judge of Portage county by a majority of 2,000, and upward was absolutely assured. His majority the first time was 643 and the second time, 1,677. But the Judge first compensation in the fact that he is discharging a duty owing his party. Of course, he will be elected."

SOCIALISM AND M. O.

Socialists Regard Municipal Ownership as a Step in the Right Direction.

At the recent labor conference at Hull, England, a resolution was adopted to the effect that "socialism is the definite object of the Labor party." This party has steadily favored municipal ownership, but until this year has been unwilling to take the next and logical step of endorsing socialism. This action just taken is helpful to a clearer understanding of the relation between the two movements. Socialism stands for the collective ownership of all the means of production; municipal ownership stands for the collective ownership of a part of the means of production. The difference is one of degree, not of kind, and in Great Britain no logical line of demarcation between the two has been found.

In this country, too, the Socialist is making full use of municipal ownership. He well knows that many people will take tickets for a short ride who would be frightened away if urged to buy a through ticket. The main point is to get them started toward his ultimate goal. After a man has been enlisted in favor of municipal ownership it is comparatively easy to get him to accept the principle of public ownership of railroads, telegraphs and coal mines, although he may still not be ready to accept the whole Socialist programme, collective ownership of all the means of production, for the simple reason that he is apt to be an owner or part owner of some "means of production" himself—e. g., a shop or a store or a share or two of stock in a manufacturing plant. That is why the national platform of the Socialist party is discreetly silent on some of the cardinal doctrines of socialism. The real purpose of collective ownership of all the means of production is therefore toned down to a demand for—

"The collective ownership of railroads, telegraphs, telephones, steamship lines and all other means of transportation and communication and all land."

"The collective ownership of all industries which are organized on a national scale and in which competition has virtually ceased to exist."

"The extension of the public domain to include mines, quarries, oil wells, forests and water power."

The platform is silent about municipal ownership of lighting plants and waterworks because M. O. people are attending to that part of the Socialist programme, leaving the thoroughgoing Socialist free to concentrate his efforts on the second part of the programme as outlined above. It may look enticing, but remember that socialism doesn't intend to stop with public utilities and big corporations nor until it has swallowed up in the great state machine every vestige of private ownership of everything except what a man wears on his back or needs to furnish his home.

It Can't Be Beat.

The best of all teachers is experience. C. M. Harden, of Silver City, North Carolina, says: "I find Electric Bitters does all that's claimed for it. For Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles it can't be beat. I have tried it and find it a most excellent medicine." TOO LATE TO FOOL ANYBODY Word comes from Pennsylvania that the United States Steel Trust is back of a movement to put 100,000 men to work before election.

Part of the plan seems to be to close down the steel mills in the overwhelmingly Republican state of Pennsylvania and to transport the men into Ohio and other doubtful states, in the hope of gaining some political effect by reopening of mills as well as to swell the vote by thus colonizing large number of voters where the Trust has its mills.

Whether the Steel Trust can deliver the votes of its employees after thus colonizing them like a lot of chattel slaves, remains to be demonstrated. It is too late to deceive any body and especially working men, by any such palpable move. The public in general will know it is a mere campaign device nor can employees of the Steel Trust have any assurance, no matter what sort of promises are made, that such employment will continue any length of time after the election.

Chattel slavery was regarded as inhuman when the slaves were black but the Steel Trust by such methods as proposed, would reduce its wage earners to a condition of slavery unheard of since the fall of the Roman Empire.

One other fact which will appeal to men depends upon such flimsy assurances of employment, that restoration to the pay roll a few weeks just prior to the election will not make up to them the losses to themselves and their families for lack of employment during all these months of the Republican panic. One whole year of solid employment would not make up to them that loss.

There are various ways of reducing wages. To be out of employment several months with no use for the dinner pail and nothing to put in it, is one of the ways of reducing wages no matter how high the scale of wages paid for labor actually performed.

Still one more point will be taken into consideration. There are thousands of men idle in the steel mill towns waiting for the mills to reopen. It will certainly teach them a lesson they can never forget to have the Trust on which they depend for employment, colonize other employees in their midst to take their places and run the mills until election day instead of saving them the employment for which they have been waiting so long and so needfully.

The Ohio Republican managers who have become so panicky over the campaign outlook must have a terrible dread of the examination of the books when they are turned on of the state house.

Never in the history of the Republican party were the leaders and managers so badly frightened as now. They are actually in a state of panic over the outlook for the overwhelming election of Bryan.

TAFT ADDS INSULT TO INJURY

Growing out of the sensational charges made by Mr. Hearst in his speech at Columbus, Mr. Taft added insult to injury when he said with reference to Mr. Foraker: "If it would win me every vote in the United States I cannot hit a man when he is down."

So then Mr. Taft regards the man he and his machine in Ohio started in to eliminate as down and out.

President Roosevelt, who has insisted on the elimination of Foraker, is also quoted as being delighted with the outcome of Hearst's onslaught on Foraker.

All this will surely be very important, not only to the Ohio Senators, but also to their friends and followers.

Mr. Hearst's charges have in no wise injured Mr. Bryan. He fails to go further than mere insinuation and by striking at Mr. Bryan over the shoulders of Governor Haskell of Oklahoma. But Governor Haskell comes back at Mr. Hearst with a challenge to produce the proof which Mr. Hearst must accept or stand before the public in an unenviable position. Hence, Mr. Hearst has succeeded only in driving Senator Foraker out of the campaign, and Mr. Taft caps the climax by saying he "cannot hit a man when he is down."

There is also some significance in the fact that Mr. Hearst, when he was in Cincinnati, Sunday, should stop at the Hotel Sinton which is Mr. Taft's campaign headquarters in Ohio.

"Shall the trusts rule?" asks Mr. Higgen the Hearst-Independence candidate. The trusts will certainly continue to rule if Hearst's alleged Independent party succeeds in its effort in aiding the Republican trust managers to elect Taft.

COLLAPSE OF TAFT'S CAMPAIGN

Mr. Taft's campaign is apparently on the verge of total collapse. It has already reached the letter writing stage, in which President Roosevelt is strenuously endeavoring to save his heir apparent.

The President is out with another letter in which he attempts to dictate to the people the election of his heir apparent and of a Republican congress to support him.

Chairman Hitchcock, whom the President put in charge of the steam roller at Chicago, and forced upon Taft and Voris as campaign manager, is also on the verge of extinction. There is openly expressed dissatisfaction with his campaign management and Senator Crane of Massachusetts has been designated as special campaign manager to manage the National Chairman, while Mr. Voris as "chief of staff" manages the candidate.

On top of all this, the President's dictation to the people will be sure to destroy what little prospect Mr. Taft has had at any time to gain the Presidency.

In the United States are thousands upon thousands of citizens who have left foreign countries that they might live in a land of liberty instead of in a land where power is handed down from generation to generation through a line of royal succession. They will not relish the prospects of a President dictating who shall be his successor, any more than they approve of succession by the eldest son in the nations from which they came.

A CASE OF MISPLACED CONFIDENCE

You say you are using filtered water. Then you have clear water. But where is the filter that is going to strain out an organism so small that millions are contained in one tiny drop? Where the water goes the germ goes. And even the few that didn't get through are clinging to your filter and multiplying with inconceivable rapidity, so that you get a double dose next time. It is not pleasant to think of, neither is the result pleasant, for even if you escape serious illness you suffer from minor disorders from the same cause. If you would have perfect health you must have cleanliness in all things.

Why bother with filters which improve the appearance of the water only, when we can provide a guaranteed spring water, combining sparkling beauty with absolute, tested, original purity. Costs so little. It is so pleasant. Ask for free sample. Chalkbeate Spring Water, Office, 16 1/2 North Park. Phone 7131 red.

BRYAN AND KERN CLUB ORGANIZED IN THIS CITY

Enthusiastic Meeting Held at Democratic Headquarters on South Park Place Monday Evening

Wm. Anderson, Jr. Chosen as President of the New Club Which Will Meet Every Monday Evening ---Several Splendid Addresses Made.

A Bryan and Kern club which will actively participate in the present campaign, was organized in this city Monday evening at the Licking County Democratic headquarters on South Park Place.

The meeting had only been advertised for a couple of days but when George W. Horton, chairman of the Democratic Executive committee called it to order the rooms were overflowing, in fact were crowded with an enthusiastic representative body of citizens.

This can only presage one result. It means that the people are up in arms. Never before were the people as active all over this great state as at the present time. They are becoming weary of wearing the collar of serfdom and of one man power and will throw off the yoke and vote for their own interests. They are becoming tired of the tactics of the Brown-Cox-Guilbert triumvirate and will repudiate them at the polls.

The people have made up their minds that a house cleaning is necessary and thousands of Republicans over the state will exercise their prerogative and cast their ballots against the candidates of the big bosses. They will not be blinded by partisanship and load down their party with men who are obnoxious to the better class of citizens.

The meeting Monday evening foretells that which is general all over the country. It shows that the citizens irrespective of party affiliations are deeply interested in the great questions of the day and that they have made up their minds to answer Bryan's question, "Shall the People Rule," in a most decided manner, and that Hon. Judson Harmon, Hon. James E. Campbell and the full Democratic state ticket will be triumphantly elected by a rousing majority.

Mr. Horton called the meeting to order and stated the purpose for which it had been called, that of organizing a Bryan and Kern club. After a few general remarks he stated that the election of officers would be next in order and a president, five vice presidents, secretary and treasurer were unanimously elected to officer the organization.

William Anderson, Jr., was chosen president, Wm. H. Miles, first vice president, L. V. Sargent of Granville, second vice president, J. H. Smith, third vice president, A. A. Rector, fourth vice president and Bernard Balzar, fifth vice president. For secretary Bert Horton was unanimously named as was Jacob K. Poundstone for treasurer.

After these officers had been elected Judge S. M. Douglass of Mansfield was introduced and stated that he was present to advocate the sending of a large delegation to the state campaign opening at Mansfield on Saturday, September 26. He said that Vice Presidential Candidate Kern, ex-Governor James E. Campbell and Hon. Judson Harmon would be among the speakers and promised all who attend a rousing reception at the hands of the citizens of Mansfield, all of whom, irrespective of party, are working hand in hand to make the opening a grand success. Judge Douglass said that they were negotiating for a special train from this city and that in all probability such arrangements would be made.

Judge Douglass next complimented and congratulated the club on its organization and splendid turnout for the meeting. He paid a splendid tribute to Mr. Bryan and Judge Harmon and said that never before had he seen the people take such an active interest in politics. Democracy, he said, had never been defeated when united, and they are certainly united at the present time. At the conclusion of the judge's address he was warmly applauded.

At his stage of the procedure the announcement was made that the new president of the club, Mr. Anderson had arrived. He was escorted to the middle of the room and introduced by Mr. Horton. Mr. Anderson is a pleasant faced gentleman, an easy and fluent talker, and although he said that the honor of being chosen as presiding officer of the club had come to him as a surprise, yet his impromptu remarks were greeted with applause throughout and proved that he will make an ideal club president. Among other things Mr. Anderson said that he had always believed in Bryan and now he was proud of it for he had developed into one of the world's greatest statesmen, and was the greatest champion of human rights on this broad earth of ours. He claimed that Bryan could win in this fight because the people loved a fearless fighter, one who had gone down in defeat, caused by the liberal use of money, but that he came up smiling, and has since made a bold and aggressive fight and that Roosevelt even had been forced to adopt the Bryan principles.

Mr. Anderson then thanked those present for the honor that had been conferred upon him and said that he would do everything in his power to promote the interests of the party and closed by predicting success for the Democratic state and national tickets.

PORCH CAMPAIGN

Will be Abandoned by Taft and President Roosevelt May Take to the Stump.

The following is taken from the Daily Paragraph of Dennison, Ohio, a Republican paper, and is conclusive proof that the Republicans all over the country are becoming worried and are in desperate straits:

It begins to look as if William H. Taft and the Republican managers are becoming badly frightened over the political situation in the country, and are devising means by which to counteract the tide of sentiment that seems to be turning toward William H. Bryan in the Presidential contest. The latter is undoubtedly more popular than ever, while Taft seems to be handicapped by numerous interests, organizations and classes of people that are evidently working against him.

It was at first announced that the Republican candidate would make no speaking tours, but would remain in Cincinnati and conduct a front porch campaign, as William McKinley did in his first race for the Presidency. But the front porch campaign is a failure, and the scheme has been definitely abandoned, and three speech-making tours have been arranged for the Republican candidate. He has determined to follow Bryan's lead in the manner of campaigning.

And to add to this appearance of alarm upon the part of the Republican candidate and his campaign managers it was stated at Cincinnati on the highest authority that President Roosevelt may enter upon a vigorous campaign for the Republicans, probably himself taking the stump. He will not do so, however, unless he is convinced the step is necessary. That he is being besieged to do so has been intimated for several days, and if he finally yields to the pressure it may be taken for granted that the situation is regarded as desperate.

The great pity is, indeed, that the grand old Republican party, which by reason of its principles and achievements should be stronger and more invincible today than ever, should be found in such a plight as it is in this campaign, and all because a bunch of self-constituted leaders have given more attention to the methods of "bossism" and the "elimination" of the old guard for their own personal advancement than to the work of organizing a campaign for victory at the polls in November, 1908. And if defeat overtakes them they will have only themselves and their methods to blame for it.

FILTRATION PLANT MAY BE BUILT BY CITY

Members of Council Leave Acceptance of Water Works Plant to the Service Board.

Judging from the action taken at Monday night's City Council meeting, the city is to have its filtration plant in connection with the new municipal water works. A resolution, presented by Councilman Kuster and ultimately adopted, marked the first step in this direction.

The resolution provides that the Board of Public Service be authorized to enter into contract with the Harris Air Pump company, of Indianapolis, for the construction of a trial well on the site of the new water works plant, the cost not to exceed $450.

It is understood that the Harris system secures the water from the wells by means of compressed air pumps, reaching the water under conditions when it could not be drawn up by suction. According to the explanation to the council by Mr. Soules representing the company, a trial well is put down at a cost not to exceed $450, and if proven successful in getting pure, naturally filtered water, the cost is borne by the city. The standard that should be expected here according to Mr. Soules, would be the same as in Zanesville, the one well producing about 1,000,000 gallons daily. If this is not reached in the trial of the test well, the city can save some of the cost of such a well in the casing, etc.

It is estimated that a filtration plant on this basis could be completely installed for a figure in the neighborhood of $12,000 or $14,000, the contract to be let by bids as in any other work.

The Board of Service gave the City Council a chance to act on the acceptance of the new water works at this time, also. But members of the council seemed to think that the matter was wholly up to the discretion of the board, so no action was taken at the meeting.

On resolution by Mr. Flohr, it was voted to reduce the number of hydrants rented of H. M. Verrill by the city. There are 178 water hydrants that are still being rented of Mr. Verrill which, since the completion of the city's plant, are no longer needed and it was with a view to cutting out the rental that the resolution was presented.

The introduction of a resolution by Mr. Fulton, some time ago, providing for the payment of $100 to B. F. McDonald and $50 to Miss Anna E. Smith, for service rendered the water works investigating committee, at that time brought forth some discussion. Mr. Fulton brought the subject up again Monday evening, and after some discussion it was placed on its second and third readings and finally adopted.

The objections to paying the money now seemed to be that there had been no report of the work done by the investigating committee up to this time, and that certain members of the council did not feel disposed to pay out the money before all of the work of the committee's attorney and stenographer had been done. This objection met with prompt reply on the part of both Councilmen Kuster and Fulton, to the effect that the committee had worked hard and earnestly on this investigation up to the present time, and that all of the findings would be embodied in one final report which is to be submitted to council after the completion of the investigation. Mr. Kuster stated that if council did not feel sufficiently confident of the honesty and integrity of the investigating committee and its associates, he was willing to assume the expense up to this time, personally, with the other members of the committee, and call the investigation off. After a few more remarks the resolution went through.

City Solicitor Bolton submitted a report from the state bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices pertaining to legal questions upon which the advice of the state department had been asked. Chief among the items mentioned was the question of whether the city of Newark should issue paving, sewer or sidewalk street-assessment bonds in excess of one per cent in one year, to which the answer was in the negative, the citation being a Cleveland decision to the effect that where the cost of such proposed improvements will bring the net indebtedness of the city past the 4 per cent limit, the council has no authority to issue bonds therefor without the approval of the electorate.

The street committee was instructed to give attention to remonstrances from Mr. Elizabeth Franklin regarding certain street improvements on the west side of the public square, and to the petition of East Main street property holders for a walk. Both of these matters had been set aside for timely hearing by the committee, but reports will probably be had at next meeting. The law committee was also urged for a report next meeting on the claim for damages to the Fitzgibbon heirs' Union street property.

A petition from property owners on Poplar avenue, for a tile sanitary sewer between Fifth and Sixth streets was received and filed. This was later brought up by Mr. Fulton in the form of a resolution and was adopted.

An ordinance, by Baker, providing for the transfer and distribution of certain funds, a technical ordinance, was given its second and third readings and final passage, after which council adjourned.

This will be welcome news to the members of the church over which Mr. Sparks has presided successfully for the past seven years, and also to other citizens of Newark who have learned to appreciate and respect the eloquent pastor.

The Ohio conference that has been in session at Lancaster was highly gratified when the monster petition signed by hundreds of Newark people was presented to them, asking that Mr. Sparks be returned to this city, and in answer they have decreed that he shall stay in this city to continue his work.

Both the pastor and his wife feel very grateful to the members of their congregation that showed in such a decided way that they wished the reverend gentleman to remain here.

FOUR NOTED TENNIS EXPERTS IN INTERNATIONAL MATCHES AT BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 22.—While Great Britain and the United States broke even in the two matches which opened the international lawn tennis tournament at Boston, the visitors showed the stronger team, for M. J. Ritchie of London, put Beals C. Wright of Boston, with greater ease than Wm. A. Larned of Summit, N. J., defeated John G. Parke of Dublin.

Larned showed the same steady but beautifully varied game which carried him to victory at Newport, and while Parke by cool, clever work in the back court, broke through the service of the American player twice and carried ten of the thirty games to deuce, he could not get by the stone wall defense at the net nor handle cleanly the hard driven balls at the base line.

A Talk On An Oily Subject

Some interesting, inside facts, not generally known.
"PURE" is usually supposed to denote the highest quality of OLIVE OIL, but such is by no means always true. Without exception the Olive Oil imported here is the second and more often the third pressing—which though pure, is very much inferior to the first expressed.
The best article obtainable in this market is the California product—THE SYLMAR BRAND. This oil is obtained entirely from the first pressing of the fruit, and is not only strictly pure, but of the very highest medicinal quality and also very palatable.
We supply this at the price usually charged for ordinary grades, and will be pleased to have it compared with any other product.

NERVOUS HEADACHES

CAUSED BY A POOR SUPPLY OF BLOOD TO THE NERVES

An Ohio Woman Tells How She Was Completely Cured by the Tonic Treatment.

There is absolutely no way of reaching the nerves with medicine except through the blood. The nerves receive all of their nourishment and support from the blood which, under healthful conditions, carries the elements needed to rebuild wasted nerve tissue. Let the blood become deranged and deficient in these elements and the nerves will be badly nourished and headaches, neuralgia, sciatica, functional paralysis and a host of other nervous troubles may result.

Since most nervous troubles are caused by a defect in the blood, to cure them at the root the blood defect must be corrected. One such trouble is nervous headache and the success of the tonic treatment is thus described by Mrs. J. B. Reel, of Austintown, Ohio:

"I had always suffered more or less with a weak stomach and think my nervous headaches were a result of it. I gradually became so nervous that I could not sit still. I was short of breath and often a lump seemed to rise in my throat. My headaches were a sickening pain back of my eyes and caused me to be sick at the stomachs. They would last for two or three days, during which time I could not do my household work. My head would commence to feel bad in the morning and by afternoon I would be obliged to go to bed. My complexion was of a sallow color. At different times I took medicine from a doctor but he gave me only slight relief. One day I read in a paper about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. They were just what I needed for before I had taken them I began to feel better. So I continued until I was completely restored to health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make rich red blood, enabling it to carry life and strength to the weak nerves and other tissues of the body. They are a specific for such blood diseases as anemia, rheumatism, the after-effects of the grip and fevers, and for such nervous diseases as dizziness, sick headaches and neuralgia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes, for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Run Down

If your doctor says take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, then take it. If he has anything better, then take that.

If you are all run down, easily tired, thin, pale, nervous, go to your doctor. Stop guessing, stop experimenting, go direct to your doctor. Ask his opinion of Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla. No alcohol, no stimulant. A blood purifier, a nerve tonic, a strong alterative, an aid to digestion. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

WEDDINGS

WILKINS-HUPP.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hupp, one and a half miles south of Brownsville, this county, on September 19, at 12 o'clock, when their daughter, Ella Estella, was married to Mr. Elmer F. Wilkins, of near Mt. Perry. They were married in the presence of about 50 of their near relatives and friends, the Rev. Mr. C. J. E. Lautenschlaeger performing the ceremony. After the marriage ceremony congratulations were received and retiring to the dining room a sumptuous dinner was served. In the evening several of their friends serenaded them and gave them a kitchen shower. The happy couple will make their home on a farm about two miles west of Mt. Perry.

MINOR HEIR

Drops Fast Race to The Bel in First Day's Race at Columbus—Hos-ter-Columbus Stake Today.

The first day's work in the grand circuit race meet at Columbus, yesterday, when the season opened, was of high class and the thousands that saw the racing were not in the least disappointed, for the races of the day were fast and clean. The Hotel Hartman stake for 2:14 pacers was a race that will long be remembered by those that saw the workout yesterday.

The Bel, by Gambetta (McEwen) easily took first money by winning all three heats, and the Canadians were well satisfied with their offering from Tavistock, Ontario. Minor Heir, by Heir-at-Law (Dean), a big favorite, was distanced in the field by George Gano, by Gambetta Wilkes (Cox), who finished second in two of the three heats. Minor Heir was in at every finish and at the middle mile the horses showed a burst of two minute speed that set the 6,000 spectators wild with excitement.

The famous Hoster-Columbus stake is to be run today when the $10,000 purse is up. The stake always brings out the best horse flesh there is in the country, and the sport of today will rival that of the many past seasons. Although this is the principal race, seven races will start if the program is carried out and the crowd from Newark will be larger if anything than it was on the opening day.

OLD SOLDIER WANTS CHANGE

The Advocate is in receipt of a letter from an old Licking county soldier who is an inmate of the Soldiers' Home at Sandusky. He says that the old soldiers are very much dissatisfied with the present management of the home, and the commandant, W. R. Cline, is becoming very uneasy. He says that it is his belief that the home will give Judge Harmon and the whole Democratic state ticket from four to five hundred majority. They are one great objection the soldiers have to Governor Harris is that he stopped the investigation of the state treasurer last winter. He is also of the opinion that a change of administration in the home would result in a great saving to the State of Ohio.

FRESHMEN

Of Denison Have Rules Laid Down to Them by the Sophomores—College Notes.

Granville, Sept. 22.—The members of the Freshman class of Denison University are up in arms over what they consider a gross insult at the hands of the members of the Sophomore class, and they are vowing vengeance. Early Tuesday morning the Freshmen discovered that bills had been posted all over the town on which were printed an alleged set of rules adopted by the Sophs and which was very obnoxious to the Freshmen. The bill was headed "Freshmen Rules and Regulations." Other paragraphs read "Abide by these rules and regulations or forfeit your fate." "Wake ye dead ones and obey the commands of the class of '11." "Select a leader for your motley crew, you, who are barely worthy of being called Freshmen." "Be in bed at 8:30 o'clock or take a bath in the Racoon." "Freshmen will only be allowed to walk with the girls from 4 to 4:30 o'clock p. m." "Never appear on the streets with an unshaven face." "No smoking cigars or cigarettes on the campus or pipes on the street." "No Freshman will be allowed in the Candy Kitchen or Uhlman's unless accompanied by an upper class man and not later than 7:30 o'clock."

At a meeting of the faculty held Monday afternoon some important changes with regard to working for second degrees were decided upon.
Where formerly a committee of three from the faculty supervised the work of each post graduate student, in the future this committee will not be necessary, and whereas certain studies have been designated from which a major might be chosen hereafter the range will not be limited but the one or two minors must be in subjects allied to the major.

At the first meeting of the Freshman class of 1912, held Monday afternoon an organization was effected and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, R. C.
Bowers; vice president, Mary Louise Chamberlain; secretary, C. K. Boyer; treasurer, T. B. Smith; historian, Estelle Deardorff; Captain football team, Clifford Stilwell, manager football team, Phil Bradford. Committees were appointed to select class colors and the yell.

SCHOOL GIRLS

Most of our ambitious young American girls work too hard at school.

Many teachers have little or no judgment about pushing a child beyond her endurance. They ought to know that girls especially have a danger period. Often, too often, utter physical collapse is the result,
and it takes years and years to recover lost vitality.

Many a young girl has been helped over this critical period, and been pre-

WE LIVE IN DEEDS.
We live in deeds, not years; in

In feelings, not in figures on a

We should count time by heart's

Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.

TWO SONS.

I HAVE two sons, wife—
Two and yet the same.
One his wild way runs, wife,
Bringing us to shame.
The one is bearded, sunburnt, grim and fights across the sea.
The other is a little child who sits upon your knee.

ONE is fierce and cold, wife.
As the wayward deep.
Him no arms could hold, wife;
Him no breast could keep.
He has tried our hearts for many a year—not broken them—for he is still the sinless little one that sits upon your knee.

ONE may fall in fight, wife.
Is he not our son?
Pray with all your might, wife,
For the wayward one;
Pray for the dark, rough soldier who fights across the sea.
Because you love the little shade who smiles upon your knee.

ONE across the foam, wife,
As I speak may fall.
But this one at home, wife,
Cannot die at all.
They both are only one. And how thankful should we be
We cannot lose the darling son who sits upon your knee!

THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET.

HOW dear to this heart are the scenes of my childhood
When fond recollection presents them to view—
The orchard, the meadow,
The deep tangled wildwood
And every loved spot which my infancy knew.

The wide spreading pond and the mill that stood by it.
The bridge and the rock where the cataract fell.

The act of my father, the dairy house rusty
And e'en the rude bucket that hung in the well—
The old oaken bucket, the iron bound
bucket,
The moss covered bucket that hung in
the well!

That moss covered bucket I hailed as a treasure
For often at noon when returned from the field
I found it the source of an exquisite pleasure.

The purest and sweetest that nature can yield
How ardent I seized it with hands that were glowing!

And quick to the white pebbled bottom it fell
Then soon, with the emblem of truth overflowing
And dripping with coolness, it rose from
the well—
The old oaken bucket, the iron bound
bucket.

The moss covered bucket that hangs in
the well.

How sweet from the green, mossy brim to receive it
As, poised on the curb, it inclined to my lips!

Not a full, blushing goblet could tempt me to leave it.
Though filled with the nectar that Jupiter sips.

And now, far removed from the loved habitation
The tear of regret will intrusively swell
As my fancy reverts to my father's plantation

And sighs for the bucket that hangs in
the well—
The old oaken bucket, the iron bound
bucket,
The moss covered bucket that hangs in
the well.

THE CURFEW.

I HEARD a wild bird crying, a curlew of the moon,
And the heart out of my bosom was taken in its lure.
I left my sister milking brown Drumin in the barn.
And I went out seeking under the yellow dawn.

I HEARD a wild bird crying, a curlew of
the mist.
No longer free to follow my fancy as I list.
My feet were bound for pathless ground and turned aside for aye
From the track my sister treads in day by day.

I HEARD a wild bird crying, a curlew of
the mist.
And I was moved and shaken with love tread with desire.

A cabin is no home for me, nor any lad
I knew Shall mate me or shall look to me to love him true.

I HEARD a curlew crying, ochone and ouch anee!
I'm lost within the boglands as a drowned man in the sea.
A fairy feet is on me that will not pass me by.
Forever I must follow the curlew's cry.
—Nora Chesson.

THE CALL OF THE WILD.

WHO hath smelt wood smoke at twilight? Who hath heard the birch log burning?
Who is quick to read the noises of the night?

Let him follow with the others, for the young men's feet are turning To the camps of proved desire and known delight.

Let him go—go away from here!
On the other side the world he's overdue.

Send your road is clear before you when the old spring first comes o'er you And the red gods call for you.
—Kipling

OUT OF THE MORNING.

WILL there really be a morning?
Is there such a thing as day?
Could I see it from the mountains
If I were as tall as they?

HAS it felt like water in me?
Has it felt like a bird?
Is it brought from famous countries
Of which I have never heard?

OH, some scholar! Oh, some sailor!
Oh, some wise man from the skies!
Please to tell a little plumb
What the place called morning has!
—Emily Dickinson

Circulating Germs of Disease.

The close alliance between dust and disease is one of the important revelations of latter day science. Health authorities are to-day giving as much attention to the suppression of circulating dust as to the destruction of germs. The only safe way to purchase coffee is to buy Climax in sealed dust-proof packages.

The Biggest Secret About Coffee

Up to now the biggest secret about coffee has been the big profit to the importer and roaster. This Company by cutting the profit to a close margin and giving the people a really high-grade coffee at a low price has found a big demand. Here lies the secret of the big success of

CLIMAX COFFEE

All Grocers — (Never Sold in Bulk)

While it sells at no greater price than other package coffees, it is guaranteed to be of quality equal to any coffee sold in bulk at 25c and 30c per pound.

Climax is neither cut nor ground, but it is roasted with absolute cleanliness and packed whole in sealed packages. It thus absorbs none of the dust, dirt and germs that contaminate the coffee sold in bulk and retains for months its strength and aroma. Each package contains a

PLANS FOR NEW COURSE

ADOPTED BY BOARD OF EDUCATION—A POST-GRADUATE COURSE.

Contingent and Regular Teachers are Appointed—Numerous Other Matters Looked After.

The plans of Supt. Simkins to install a post-graduate course in the High school, for the benefit of graduates who contemplate becoming teachers, are almost completed, and the Board of Education last night approved them when they were submitted by Supt. Simkins and Principal Williams of the High school. The course will probably be started within a very short time.

Other matters of importance also came before the board at a regular meeting held Monday evening, when all the members were present. Miss Hite, supervisor of domestic arts in the seventh and eighth grades, appeared before the board and informed them of the supplies needed in her department. The matter was referred to the supply committee. The department of domestic arts is a new addition in the curriculum of the local schools, and is bound to be an important and popular department.

The matter of installing additional fire hose in the High school was awarded to W. J. Henderson for $31.25. Prof. Wm. E. Painter was re-elected as a member of the board of teachers' examiners. The term is for three years and begins the 31st of August. Supt. Simkins was authorized to purchase several wall maps for the use of the schools. The grading of the High school lot was awarded to C. S. Johnson at 25 cents per square. The supply committee was ordered to purchase a piano for the new High school auditorium, chairs for the teachers and other necessities.

The following contingent teachers were appointed upon recommendation of Supt. Simkins. Misses Bernice Orr, Olive Acton, Gladys Beecher, Ruth Miller and Lena Anderson. The regular teachers appointed to fill vacancies are: Misses Una Marshall, Bernice Brown, Ethel Wood and Helen Redman. The contingent teachers will have to take the post-graduate course in the High school, or its equivalent before they are eligible to become teachers.

A FAMOUS HOUSE PAINTER.

There is a man who fame has gained, his work is painting houses, and envy in the hearts of other painters he arouses. For high grade work he has a reputation far and wide, the houses that he paints look best and wear for years beside. But now it seems the truth is out and all the world may know—in finding out the secret other painters were not slow. It was Aurora Paint that made this first named painter's fame, and now all painters rated good are using paint the same. Aurora Mixed Paint is made from the best and purest materials by The Marietta Paint & Color Co., Marietta, Ohio. Sold by Newark Paint Co., 31 West Church street.

MERCHANTS

Of Newark Again the Victims of a Stranger—Check Passer at Work in the City.

Another check forger, or at least a firm-flam man, is working in Newark, according to affidavits that have been filed in the mayor's court and reports that are being circulated in the city by victims and intended victims of the stranger. The police are busily working on the case and are doing all in their power to track down the "tall dark man" said to be guilty of the offenses.

The first case reported was by Charles L. Stare, who swore to a warrant charging Eugene Ellis with having "done" him. Ellis, at least that is the name the stranger gave, bought a hand bag at the Alspaugh harness shop and gave a $19 check in payment. It was accepted and count one was registered against the man.

Miss Sadie Pickrell, who said she recently came here from Coshocton, received a check for $29 from a man named Frank Carr, and this check she cashed at the United States Express office. It was also a poney and Miss Pickrell is strong in her statements that she will make good the money advanced by the employee of the express company who cashed the check for her.

The last case reported to the Advocate came from the Levitt & Bowman store, West Church street, this morning, where Ellis tried to cash a check for $12.50 Saturday night. The clerk sold him the bill of goods, but refused to cash the check, and as a result the firm lost nothing. The check was made payable to bearer. The man is said to have been of medium size, dark complexioned and was dressed in a dark gray suit of clothes. One thing that attracted the attention of the clerk was the fact that one of his eyes was unusual, there being either a slight cast or a slight squint to it.

Ellis and Carr are thought to be the same, but it is possible that two men are "working" in the city.
